FACTS AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW.

Counts One and Three, Case No. 06-O-14524 Rules of Professional Conduct, rule 3-110(A) [Failure to Perform with Competence]

Facts.

On November 26, 2003, Moises Torres ("Torres"), hired respondent to represent him on the appeal of a drug conviction case. Respondent was to be paid between $500 and $1,000 per month for a total fee of $20,000. Respondent collected a total of $17,000 from or on behalf of Torres before ultimately substituting out of the case. From the beginning of and throughout his representation of Torres, respondent was authorized to communicate with Elisa Marie Arroyo, also known as 'Tina' (hereinafter, "Tina"), on Torres' behalf.

On February 24, 2004, respondent substituted into the matter styled USA v. Moises Rodriguez-Torres, case no. 03-10610, pending in the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit ("Ninth Circuit"). Respondent was not then nor has he ever been admitted to practice before the Ninth Circuit.

On March 5, 2004, the Court filed an order and entered respondent as retained counsel for Torres. The order required Torres to show cause ("OSC") within 14 days why his in forma pauperis status should not be revoked and why the case should not be referred to the district court to determine whether Torres should be required to reimburse the CJA Fund for the cost of Torres' appellate defense, including the cost of producing reporter's transcripts and the fees and expenses of Torres' former appointed counsel. The March 5 order also confirmed a briefing schedule established earlier, which required Torres' opening brief and excerpts of the record filed by May 17, 2004; the answering brief filed by June 16, 2004; and the optional reply brief within 14 days after service of the answering brief. Respondent received this order but did not file a response to the OSC.

In an April 2, 2004 order, the Court stated that respondent had failed to respond to the March 5, 2004, OSC; Torres' in forma pauperis status was revoked; the matter was referred to the district for determination of whether Torres would be required to reimburse the CJA Fund for costs and fees; Torres was required to pay $255 to the District Court for the appeal and submit proof of payment to the court. The costs and fees ordered were paid on April 15, 2004.

On April 21, 2004, respondent filed a certificate of record on appeal in District Court.

On June 3, 2004, in response to a motion filed by respondent, the Court ordered an extension of time to file the opening brief, including the following schedule: The opening brief was ordered due June 21, 2004; the answering brief by July 21, 2004; the optional reply brief by 14 days after service of the answering brief. Respondent received this order, but did not file the opening brief when due.

On December 11, 2004, the Court filed a default order because of respondent's failure to file Torres' opening brief. Any response to the December 11 order was due in 14 days; respondent did not file the opening brief or any other reply.

Thereafter, on September 30, 2005, the Court entered a default order because of respondent's failure to file Torres' opening brief. A response to the September 30 order was due in 14 day; respondent did not file the opening brief when due or any other reply.

On November 22, 2005, the Court filed an order which contained the following findings: respondent had failed to comply with the Court's order; the Court allowed respondent one final opportunity to file the opening brief; respondent was given 14 days after the date of the order in which to file the opening brief, excerpts of the record, and a motion for relief from default; alternatively respondent was to file a motion to withdraw. Respondent received this order, but did not file the opening brief, nor did he file a motion to withdraw.

On January 20, 2006, the Court filed an order, which contained the following findings: respondent had failed to reply to the November 22, 2005 order regarding filing the opening brief; and the court among other things ordered respondent to show cause in writing why he should not be sanctioned not less than $1,000 for failure to comply with the court's rules and orders. Respondent received this order, but did not file a response to the OSC, did not file the opening brief or any other reply.

On March 28, 2006, the Court filed another order, which contained the following findings: respondent had not responded to the court's January 20, 2006 order; and Torres had one final opportunity to file a response to the court's January 20, 2006 order. The response was due within 21 days of the date of the order. Respondent received this order, but did not file the opening brief. This time the Court also served the order directly on Torres. On April 4, 2006, Torres and Tina received the Court's March 28, 2006 Order. Tina immediately contacted respondent's office, who put her in contact with another attorney, Brenda Grantland. Subsequently, Brenda Grantland was hired by Torres and Tina to work on Torres' appeal. In April, 2006 and May, 2007, respondent forwarded $5,000 on each occasion for a total of $10,000 to Grantland from advanced fees paid to him by or on behalf of Torres. On April 17, 2006, Brenda Grantland filed a notice of appearance on behalf of Torres.

Conclusions of Law.

Count One: By not filing Torres' opening brief in the Ninth Circuit despite numerous orders and default orders, and by not responding to the OSC re: in forma pauperis, respondent intentionally, recklessly and repeatedly failed to perform legal services with competence, in violation of Rules of Professional Conduct, rule 3-110(A).

Count Four: By not responding in any way to the March 5, 2004, June 3, 2004, December 11, 2004, September 30, 2005, November 22, 2005, January 20, 2006 and March 28, 2006 Court orders, respondent willfully disobeyed court orders requiring him to do acts in the course of his profession which he ought in good faith to do, in violation of Business and Professions Code, section 6103.

Count Three, Case No. 06-O-14524, Rules of Professional Conduct, rule 4-100(B)(3), [Failure to Render Accounts of Client Funds]

Facts.

On November 25, 2003, Tina, at the direction of respondent, provided cashier's check no. 8556335 in the amount of $10,000 to the Wormley and Virgilio Law Firm as the first payment on the Torres appeal.

Pursuant to the contract, Tina made payments totaling $17,000, to respondent, or respondent's agent, on behalf of Torres.

On February 8, 2005, Tina requested on Torres' behalf an accounting of fees paid for the appeal, receipt of which respondent's staff confirmed on February 9, 2005. Respondent ultimately did prepare and provide an accounting once State Bar proceedings had commenced, approximately two years after it was requested.

Conclusion of Law.

By failing to provide an accounting to Torres and Tina for approximately two years and not until State Bar proceedings were initiated, respondent failed to render an accounting to the client regarding client funds coming into respondent's possession.

Count Five, Case No. 06-O-14524, Rules of Professional Conduct, Rule 1-300(B), [Unauthorized Practice of Law in Another Jurisdiction]

Facts.

Federal Rule of Appellate Procedure, rule 46(a) and Circuit Rule 46-1 require that in order for an attorney to practice before the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeal, he or she must be admitted to practice before the Court, is required to apply for admission thereto and must pay a fee.

From November 26, 2003 through April 17, 2006, respondent was not admitted to practice before the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeal; at no time between November 26, 2003 and April 17, 2006, was respondent entitled to practice law before the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeal.

Between November 26, 2003 and April 17, 2006, respondent knew that he was not admitted to practice law before the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeal; between November 26, 2003 and April 17, 2006, respondent knew that he was not entitled to practice law before the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeal.

By order dated January 20, 2006, the Court found that respondent was not admitted to practice before the Ninth Circuit. The Court ordered respondent to provide proof within 14 days of the January 20 order, showing admission to the Ninth Circuit bar or to complete and submit the bar admission form, which accompanied the order. Respondent received the order and form, but did not apply for admission to the Ninth Circuit or withdraw from representation of Torres. Respondent continued as attorney of record for Torres until April 17, 2006.

Conclusion of Law.

By substituting into the Torres appeal and filing documents with the Ninth Circuit in the Torres appeal, respondent held himself out to the Court as entitled to practice law and actually practiced law in a jurisdiction in which he was not entitled to do so, pursuant to the Federal Rules of Appellate Procedure and the Circuit Rules, in violation of Rules of Professional Conduct, Rule 1-300(B).

(Unfiled) Case No. 07-O-12852

Facts and Conclusion of Law.

In November 2004, Bryan Thies (hereinafter, "Thies") hired respondent to represent Thies in a criminal matter. Thies paid respondent a flat fee of $4,500 for all services up to but not including trial. Respondent specifically contracted to conduct a thorough investigation because witness issues were of major significance to the settlement value of the case.

Respondent and/or attorney(s) on his behalf made one or more court appearances in the Thies matter. Respondent obtained and reviewed a portion of the available case-related documents and had limited discussions with the assigned Deputy District Attorney. However, pretrial investigation was incomplete. Among other things, many witnesses were not interviewed; police audio tapes were not obtained or transcribed. In addition, Thies paid for and submitted to inadmissible testing on the advice of respondent.

In August, 2005, based on the lack of work performed, Thies decided to and did retain new counsel. When Thies learned from his new attorney that very little of the work performed by respondent was useful to the new counsel and that new counsel promptly oversaw an investigation that included interviewing more than 20 witnesses and obtaining and transcribing police audio tapes, Thies demanded that respondent account for the $4,500 Thies initially paid for a thorough pretrial investigation. Thies also sought from respondent a refund of a portion of the unearned fees.

Respondent initially failed to provide the accounting Thies demanded. Respondent also initially refused to refund any portion of the fees. Under cover of letter dated July 5, 2007, respondent provided an accounting to Mr. Thies. In addition, respondent has agreed as part of the settlement negotiations in the State Bar matter to refund a portion ($2,000) of the fees paid.

By failing to refund fees he had not earned, upon termination from Thies' representation, respondent willfully violated Rules of Professional Conduct, rule 3-700(D)(2).
