//

16. On or about August 30, 2006, a Probation Deputy from the Office of Probation wrote a letter to Respondent acknowledging receipt of the July 10, 2006 quarterly report. In the letter, she reminded him that his next quarterly report was due on or before October 10, 2006, that the final report was due by December 9, 2006, and that he must submit proof of completion of the MPRE no later than December 9, 2006. In bold writing, she advised him that, "FAILURE TO TIMELY FILE THE FINAL REPORT AND/OR ANY OTHER REQUIRED PROOF OF COMPLIANCE WILL RESULT IN A REFERRAL FOR REVIEW AND DETERMINATION OF FURTHER ACTION."
17. The Probation Deputy's August 30, 2006 letter to Respondent was mailed on or about August 30, 2006 via the U.S. Postal Service, first class postage prepaid, in a sealed envelope addressed to Respondent at his State Bar membership records address. The August 30, 2006 letter was not returned by the U.S. Postal Service as undeliverable or for any other reason.
18. Respondent received the August 30, 2006 letter from the Probation Deputy.

23. On or about January 3, 2007, Respondent filed a reply to the State Bar's opposition to his motion for extension of time.
24. On or about January 4, 2007, the State Bar Court filed its Order, denying Respondent's motion for extension of time based on the fact that Respondent's motion was not timely.
25. On or about January 11, 2007, Respondent filed a motion for reconsideration.
26. On or about January 19, 2007, the State Bar of California, by and through the Office of Probation, filed and properly served Respondent with its opposition to Respondent's motion for reconsideration.
27. On or about February 14, 2007, the State Bar Court filed its Order, denying Respondent's motion for reconsideration because no good cause had been shown.
28. On or about March 10, 2007, Respondent took the MPRE, but did not receive a passing score.

29. To date, Respondent has failed to submit to the Office of Probation satisfactory proof of passage of the MPRE, which should have been completed no later than December 9, 2006.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

By failing to timely re-submit a compliant quarterly report that was due on April 10, 2006, by failing to timely submit the quarterly report that was due on October 10, 2006 and the final report that was due on December 9, 2006, and by failing to submit proof of passage of the MPRE, which proof was due by December 9, 2006, Respondent failed to comply with the conditions of the public reproof, in willful violation of rule 1-110 of the Rules of Professional Conduct.

PENDING PROCEEDINGS

The disclosure date referred to on page two, paragraph A(7), was October 4, 2007.

AUTHORITIES SUPPORTING DISCIPLINE

Pursuant to Standard 1.3 of the Standards for Attorney Sanctions for Professional Misconduct ("Standards"), the primary purposes of disciplinary proceedings and imposing sanctions for professional misconduct are, "the protection of the public, the courts and the legal profession; the maintenance of high professional standards by attorneys[;] and the preservation of public confidence in the legal profession."

Here, the requested discipline complies with Standard 1.3.

Standard 1.6(a) provides that the appropriate sanction for an act of professional misconduct shall be the sanction set forth in the Standards for the particular misconduct found or acknowledged.

Standard 2.9 provides that, "[c]ulpability of a member of a wilful violation of rule 1-110, Rules of Professional Conduct, shall result in suspension" (emphasis added).

Finally, Standard 1.7(a) provides that if a member is found culpable of misconduct and has a prior record of one imposition of discipline, the degree of discipline imposed in the current proceeding shall be greater than that imposed in the prior proceeding unless the prior was remote in time and the offense for which it was imposed was so minimal that it would be manifestly unjust to impose greater discipline in the current proceeding.

The Supreme Court gives the Standards "great weight," and will reject a recommendation consistent with the Standards only where the Court entertains "grave doubts" as to its propriety. In re Naney (1990) 51 Cal. 3d 186, 190; see also In re Silvertown (2005) 36 Cal. 4th 81, 91, 92. Further, although the Standards are not mandatory, it is well established that the Standards may be deviated from only when there is compelling, well-defined reason to do so. See Aronin v. State Bar (1990) 52 Cal. 3d 276, 291; see also Bates v. State Bar (1990) 52 Cal. 3d 1056, 1060, fn. 2.

//

In the case at bar, the stipulated discipline is within the range of discipline prescribed by the Standards as set forth above. Also, it is supported by case law. The case most analogous to the matter before us is Conroy v. State Bar (1990) 51 Cal. 3d 799. In Conroy, the underlying discipline was a private reproof with conditions, one of which was that respondent was required to take and pass the Professional Responsibility Examination ("PRE") within one year of the effective date of the reproof, on or before December 30, 1987. The respondent failed to timely take and pass the PRE. However, he did tardily take and pass the PRE in March 1988, before the State Bar filed the reproof violation proceeding. In Conroy, the respondent defaulted at the Hearing Department level and was found culpable of willful violation of rule 9-101 of the former Rules of Professional Conduct, the precursor to rule 1-110 of the Rules of the Professional Conduct.

The Supreme Court in Conroy deemed the belated passage of the PRE to be an "extenuating factor," but not "significant mitigation." In aggravation, the Court found that the respondent had the one prior private reproof, that by defaulting, the respondent failed to appreciate the seriousness of the charges and the importance of participating in the State Bar proceedings, and that by suggesting on review that his misconduct was a mere technical lapse, he had failed to show remorse for his misconduct. On balance, the Supreme Court concluded that the aggravating circumstances significantly outweighed the mitigating circumstances, and imposed a one (1) year suspension from practice, stayed, with a one (1) year period of probation on terms and conditions, including a sixty-day (60) actual suspension.

Unlike the attorney in Conroy, who only violated a single condition of his reproof, Respondent violated three separate reproof conditions: belatedly filing his quarterly reports, belatedly filing his final report, and failing to take and pass the MPRE by December 9, 2006, as ordered. Also, Respondent, unlike the attorney in Conroy, still has not taken and passed the MPRE, and therefore, has not brought himself into compliance with the conditions of his reproof. Although Respondent claims that he took the MPRE (for the third time) in August 2007, he waited until November 2006 to first take the exam, even though he was fully aware that he was required to take and pass the MPRE by December 9, 2006.

Moreover, even though Respondent's misconduct is more egregious than that of the attorney in Conroy, the State Bar is willing to resolve the matter for less discipline because Respondent has been participating in the disciplinary proceedings, has been candid and cooperative, and has acknowledged and accepted responsibility for his misconduct. More importantly, unlike the attorney in Conroy, who was found to have several aggravating factors against him, the only aggravation against Respondent is his prior record of discipline. Thus, by imposing a six (6) months period of stayed suspension, with one (1) year probation with conditions, the public, the courts, and the legal profession would be adequately protected and the purposes of the disciplinary proceedings will be achieved.

COSTS OF DISCIPLINARY PROCEEDINGS

Respondent acknowledges that the Office of the Chief Trial Counsel has informed Respondent that, as of October 4, 2007, the costs in this matter are $1,636.00. Costs to be paid in equal amounts prior to February 1 for the following two (2) billing cycles following the effective date of the Supreme Court order. Respondent further acknowledges that should this stipulation be rejected or should relief from this stipulation be granted, the costs in this matter may increase due to the costs of further proceedings.
