A Member of the State Bar.)
_____)

On May 28, 2013, respondent John Edward Hayes filed a second motion to be permitted to substitute continuing education credits for the reprobation conditions requiring him to take and pass the Multistate Professional Responsibility Examination (MPRE) and the State Bar Ethics School. In the alternative, respondent requests a second extension of time to take and pass the MPRE. The Office of Probation acknowledges that there may be good cause to grant a further extension of time to take the MPRE, but it asserts that no good cause is shown to substitute continuing education credits for the MPRE and Ethics School conditions.

The court agrees with the Office of Probation. Accordingly, the time is extended for respondent to take the MPRE and provide proof of passage to the Office of Probation in Los Angeles until September 23, 2013. No further extensions will be granted. The request to substitute continuing education credits for the MPRE and Ethics School conditions is denied.

IT IS SO ORDERED.
