2945.1. Respondent collected these funds from Navarrette before fully performing each and every foreclosure consultant service contracted to be performed, acts which ultimately were found to have violated Civil Code section 2945.4(a).

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

7. The facts and circumstances surrounding the above-described violation did not involve moral turpitude but did involve other misconduct warranting discipline.

Case No. 14-O-02699 (State Bar Investigation)

Respondent admits that the following facts are true and that he is culpable of violations of the specified Rules of Professional Conduct.

FACTS:

8. From January 2009 through December 2012, Respondent repeatedly paid personal expenses from his client trust account with earned fees that he failed to promptly remove from the account.

9. Repeated personal expenses paid from Respondent's client trust account include payments directly made to:

- a. Franchise Tax Board,
- b. Secretary of State,
- c. Katharina Feldman,
- d. AAA Financial Services,
- e. Internal Revenue Service, and
- f. Florida Department of State

10. When Respondent failed to timely remove his earned fees from his client trust account and thereafter paid personal expenses from his trust account with the earned fees, Respondent commingled funds belonging to himself with funds belonging to clients.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

11. By failing to promptly remove his earned fees from his client trust account, and thereafter paying personal expenses with the earned fees, Respondent commingled funds belonging to Respondent in a bank account labeled "Trust Account," "Client's Funds Account" or words of similar import in willful violation of the Rules of Professional Conduct, rule 4-100(A).

AGGRAVATING CIRCUMSTANCES.

Multiple Acts of Wrongdoing (Std. 1.5(b)): Although Respondent committed only two acts of misconduct, the scope of the misconduct included many individual acts by repeated incidents of commingling every month over a period of several years. Three acts of misconduct are sufficient for a finding of multiple acts. (In the Matter of Bach (Review Dept. 1991) 1 Cal. State Bar Ct. Rptr. 631, 646-7.)

MITIGATING CIRCUMSTANCES.

Good Character (Std. 1.6(f)): Respondent has offered an extraordinary demonstration of good character attested to by a wide range of references in the legal community and who are aware of the full extent of Respondent's misconduct. Almost all of Respondent's eight character references had known him for at least 10 years, and three had known him for more than 30 years. Without exception all the references praised Respondent's good character even with full knowledge of Respondent's misconduct. (In the Matter of Wells (Review Dept. 2006) 4 Cal. State Bar Ct. Rptr. 896, 912-913, [eight character witnesses is sufficient for mitigation]; In the Matter of Davis (Review Dept. 2003) 4 Cal. State Bar Ct. Rptr. 576, 592, [three character witness, although not an extraordinary demonstration of good character, are entitled to mitigation due to their familiarity with Respondent].)

Additional Mitigating Circumstances:

No Prior Discipline: Although the present misconduct is serious, Respondent is entitled to mitigation for his years of practice without discipline. At the time of the misconduct, Respondent had 33 years of discipline free practice. Twenty years in practice without discipline is highly significant. (Friedman v. State Bar (1990) 52 Cal.3d 235, 245 [20 years is "highly significant"].)

Pretrial Stipulation: Respondent is entering into this full stipulation as to all facts, culpability and discipline prior to trial thereby saving the State Bar time and resources. (Silva-Vidor v. State Bar (1989) 49 Cal.3d 1071, 1079 [where mitigative credit was given for entering into a stipulation as to facts and culpability].)

AUTHORITIES SUPPORTING DISCIPLINE.

The Standards for Attorney Sanctions for Professional Misconduct "set forth a means for determining the appropriate disciplinary sanction in a particular case and to ensure consistency across cases dealing with similar misconduct and surrounding circumstances." (Rules Proc. of State Bar, tit. IV, Stds. for Atty. Sanctions for Prof. Misconduct, std. 1.1. All further references to Standards are to this source.) The Standards help fulfill the primary purposes of discipline, which include: protection of the public, the courts and the legal profession; maintenance of the highest professional standards; and preservation of public confidence in the legal profession. (See std. 1.1; In re Morse (1995) 11 Cal.4th 184, 205.)

Although not binding, the standards are entitled to "great weight" and should be followed "whenever possible" in determining level of discipline. (In re Silverton (2005) 36 Cal.4th 81, 92, quoting In re Brown (1995) 12 Cal.4th 205, 220 and In re Young (1989) 49 Cal.3d 257, 267, fn. 11.) Adherence to the standards in the great majority of cases serves the valuable purpose of eliminating disparity and assuring consistency, that is, the imposition of similar attorney discipline for instances of similar attorney misconduct. (In re Naney (1990) 51 Cal.3d 186, 190.) If a recommendation is at the high end or low end of a Standard, an explanation must be given as to how the recommendation was reached. (Std. 1.1.) "Any disciplinary recommendation that deviates from the Standards must include clear reasons for the departure." (Std. 1.1; Blair v. State Bar (1989) 49 Cal.3d 762, 776, fn. 5.)

In determining whether to impose a sanction greater or less than that specified in a given Standard, in addition to the factors set forth in the specific Standard, consideration is to be given to the primary purposes of discipline; the balancing of all aggravating and mitigating circumstances; the type of misconduct at issue; whether the client, public, legal system or profession was harmed; and the member's willingness and ability to conform to ethical responsibilities in the future. (Stds. 1.7(b) and (c).)

In this matter, Respondent admits to committing two acts of professional misconduct. Standard 1.7(a) requires that where a Respondent "commits two or more acts of misconduct and the Standards specify different sanctions for each act, the most severe sanction must be imposed."

The most severe sanction applicable to Respondent's misconduct is found in Standard 2.2(a) which applies to Respondent's violation of the Rules of Professional Conduct, rule 4-100(A). Standard 2.2(a) provides that actual suspension of three months is appropriate for commingling personal funds in a client trust account.

This Standard has been upheld in cases in which the facts were similar to the facts at hand here. In In the Matter of McKiernan (Review Dept. 1995) 3 Cal. State Bar Ct. Rptr. 420, 426, the court stated "Furthermore, by keeping the money he borrowed in the trust account, respondent commingled his personal funds with client funds and used the trust account to pay his own personal and business expenses. Such personal uses of a client trust account are also clear violations of rule 4-100(A) [citations omitted]."

More generally, Standard 2.12(a) states that actual suspension is appropriate for a felony conviction which does not involve moral turpitude but that does involve other misconduct warranting discipline. This standard is applicable to Respondent's felony conviction for a violation of California Civil Code section 2945.4(a) [Prohibited Acts as a Foreclosure Consultant].

This matter is somewhat aggravated due to the multiple acts; however, Respondent is entitled to significant mitigation for his many years in practice without discipline and his good character references. At the time of the misconduct, Respondent had 33 years in practice without discipline. Standard 1.7(c) offers guidance by which to analyze mitigation, "On balance, a lesser sanction is appropriate in cases of minor misconduct, where there is little or no injury to the client, the public, the legal system or the profession and where the records demonstrates that the member is willing and has the ability to conform to ethical responsibilities in the future." In the present case, Respondent was convicted of a crime and commingled personal funds in his client trust account for at least three years. However, there was little injury to his client, the legal system or his profession. Respondent has made full restitution to his client in the conviction matter and no clients appear to be harmed by Respondent's commingling. On the other hand, given the length of time and the extent of Respondent's commingling, as well as the additional factor of the criminal conviction, deviating from Standard 2.2(a) is not appropriate. However, when the misconduct is balanced with his mitigation, the actual suspension prescribed, three months, serves the purposes of attorney discipline.

COSTS OF DISCIPLINARY PROCEEDINGS.

Respondent acknowledges that the Office of the Chief Trial Counsel has informed Respondent that as of May 30, 2014, the prosecution costs in this matter are $2,447. Respondent further acknowledges that should this stipulation be rejected or should relief from the stipulation be granted, the costs in this matter may increase due to the cost of further proceedings.

EXCLUSION FROM MCLE CREDIT
