Substance Abuse Conditions

Law Office Management Conditions

Medical Conditions

Financial Conditions

F. Other Conditions Negotiated by the Parties:

FACTS:

7. On the evening of September 20, 2014, respondent went into his son's bedroom, where his wife and son were asleep, and began to yell at his wife. As the argument continued, respondent grabbed his wife's ponytail. Respondent's wife told him that she would join him in the living room, so as to not wake their son, and respondent told his wife "[i]f you lock me out, I'll break down the door and kill you."

8. Respondent and his wife continued to argue in their living room. Respondent told his wife that he wanted a divorce, and a further argument regarding custody of their son ensued.

9. Respondent's wife attempted to return to their son's room, but respondent grabbed her by the waist and put her in a bear hug. Respondent then opened the door, pushed his wife outside, and locked the door. While respondent was closing the door, he saw his wife fall down a few steps.

10. Respondent heard his wife call 911, to which he responded "what the fuck are you doing?!" Respondent's wife then took off running, while barefoot and on the phone with 911, when her cell phone died.

11. At approximately 11:05 p.m., officers of the San Francisco Police Department ("SFPD") responded in full uniform to a possible domestic violence incident between respondent and his wife at respondent's home. When SFPD arrived on scene, they were initially unable to locate respondent's wife. The officers spoke to respondent who told them that he was in the process of separating from his wife, and that he had locked her out of their home. The initial investigation was closed due to the officers' inability to locate the reporting party.

12. At approximately 11:26 p.m., SFPD was advised that respondent's wife was at the Taraval police station. Officers met with respondent's wife and interviewed her. The officers then drove respondent's wife back to the residence, where she collected some belongings and her son. Respondent was not arrested at this time.

13. On September 22, 2014, at approximately 11:00 p.m., respondent's wife returned to the Taraval police station and filed a criminal complaint against respondent regarding the September 20, 2014 incident. Respondent's wife showed the officer on duty bruises on her legs which she claimed were caused by respondent pushing her two days earlier. The officer took photos of respondent's wife's purported injuries, contacted a commissioner and obtained a temporary restraining order against respondent.

14. SFPD officers then went to respondent's home and arrested him. Respondent was booked at Taraval station for domestic violence and terrorist threats.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

15. The facts and circumstances surrounding the above-described violation did not involve moral turpitude but did involve other misconduct warranting discipline.

FACTS SUPPORTING MITIGATING CIRCUMSTANCES.

Pretrial Stipulation: Respondent is entitled to mitigation for entering into a full stipulation with the Office of Chief Trial Counsel prior to trial, thereby saving State Bar Court time and resources. (Silva-Vidor v. State Bar (1989) 49 Cal.3d 1071, 1079 [where mitigative credit was given for entering into a stipulation as to facts and culpability].)

AUTHORITIES SUPPORTING DISCIPLINE.

The Standards for Attorney Sanctions for Professional Misconduct “set forth a means for determining the appropriate disciplinary sanction in a particular case and to ensure consistency across cases dealing with similar misconduct and surrounding circumstances.” (Rules Proc. of State Bar, tit. IV, Stds. for Atty. Sanctions for Prof. Misconduct, std. 1.1. All further references to Standards are to this source.) The Standards help fulfill the primary purposes of discipline, which include: protection of the public, the courts and the legal profession; maintenance of the highest professional standards; and preservation of public confidence in the legal profession. (See std. 1.1; In re Morse (1995) 11 Cal.4th 184, 205.)

Although not binding, the standards are entitled to “great weight” and should be followed “whenever possible” in determining level of discipline. (In re Silverton (2005) 36 Cal.4th 81, 92, quoting In re Brown (1995) 12 Cal.4th 205, 220 and In re Young (1989) 49 Cal.3d 257, 267, fn. 11.) Adherence to the standards in the great majority of cases serves the valuable purpose of eliminating disparity and assuring consistency, that is, the imposition of similar attorney discipline for instances of similar attorney misconduct. (In re Naney (1990) 51 Cal.3d 186, 190.) If a recommendation is at the high end or low end of a Standard, an explanation must be given as to how the recommendation was reached. (Std. 1.1.) “Any disciplinary recommendation that deviates from the Standards must include clear reasons for the departure.” (Std. 1.1; Blair v. State Bar (1989) 49 Cal.3d 762, 776, fn. 5.)

In determining whether to impose a sanction greater or less than that specified in a given Standard, in addition to the factors set forth in the specific Standard, consideration is to be given to the primary purposes of discipline; the balancing of all aggravating and mitigating circumstances; the type of misconduct at issue; whether the client, public, legal system or profession was harmed; and the member’s willingness and ability to conform to ethical responsibilities in the future. (Stds. 1.7(b) and (c).)

Here, respondent was convicted of violating Penal Code section 242 (battery), a misdemeanor. The facts and circumstances surrounding the offenses did not involve moral turpitude. Therefore, Standard 2.16(b) applies to this case. Standard 2.16(b) provides that “[s]uspension or reproof is the presumed sanction for final conviction of a misdemeanor not involving moral turpitude but involving other misconduct warranting discipline.”

A public reproof is consistent with Standard 2.16(b), and appropriate based on the facts and circumstances of this case. Respondent’s misconduct is not serious enough to warrant an actual suspension because respondent was convicted of a single misdemeanor, respondent’s misconduct is not aggravated by any factors, and respondent is entitled to mitigation for entering into a pretrial stipulation.

In re Otto, a pre-Silverton but post-Standards California Supreme Court decision, is instructive in this matter. In Otto, the respondent attorney was convicted of two felonies: assault by means likely to produce great bodily injury, and infliction of corporal punishment on a cohabitant of the opposite sex, both of which were reduced to misdemeanors by the trial court. (See 48 Cal. 3d at 971.) The Supreme Court ordered respondent Otto suspended for two years, stayed, conditioned on a two-year probation and six-month actual suspension. Id. at 972.

Here, respondent's misconduct is significantly less egregious than that of respondent Otto because respondent's misconduct did not cause any provable injury, the battery took place over a short period of time, and respondent was only convicted of a single misdemeanor battery charge. Thus, respondent's conduct warrants a substantially lesser level of discipline than that imposed in Otto.

Balancing all of the appropriate factors, a public reproof is consistent with the Standards and Otto, and is appropriate taking into consideration the facts and circumstances of this case.

COSTS OF DISCIPLINARY PROCEEDINGS.

Respondent acknowledges that the Office of the Chief Trial Counsel has informed Respondent that as of August 5, 2015, the prosecution costs in this matter are $2507. Respondent further acknowledges that should this stipulation be rejected or should relief from the stipulation be granted, the costs in this matter may increase due to the cost of further proceedings.

EXCLUSION FROM MCLE CREDIT

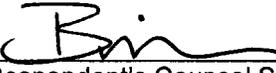

Pursuant to rule 3201, Respondent may not receive MCLE credit for completion of State Bar Ethics School. (Rules Proc. of State Bar, rule 3201.)
