STIPULATION RE FACTS, CONCLUSIONS OF LAW AND DISPOSITION

IN THE MATTER OF:

ALI EBRAHIMZADEH

CASE NUMBER:

FACTS AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW.

Respondent admits that the following facts are true and that he is culpable of violations of the specified statutes and/or Rules of Professional Conduct.

Case No. 14-O-04146 (Complainant: Charles Leslie)

FACTS:

- 1. In January 2013, Charles Leslie ("Leslie") stopped taking his medication for a bi-polar disorder after his father's death. Without medication, Leslie had manic episodes and paranoid delusions.
- 2. On April 23, 2013, Leslie was alleged to have exposed himself while sitting in his car watching teenage girls play soccer.
  - 3. On April 24, 2013, Leslie provided an irrational written narrative to police about the incident.
- 4. On May 3, 2013, Leslie was arrested for violating Penal Code section 314.1 [indecent exposure], a misdemeanor (People v. Leslie, Santa Cruz County Superior Court Case No. M72876.)
- 5. On May 7, 2013, Leslie contacted respondent through respondent's webpage and paid $210 for a one-hour consultation regarding representation in Case No. M72876. After the consultation, Leslie and respondent met to discuss the matter. During the meeting, Leslie told respondent that he had recently inherited lots of money from his father's estate and was willing to pay "$100,000 or more" to fight the case. Leslie hired respondent to represent him in Case No. M72876 and paid respondent $3,500 as advanced fees. After the meeting, respondent sent an email to Leslie requesting case information and notifying Leslie that respondent would draft and send a retainer agreement. Respondent also advised that he would charge Leslie a flat rate of $250 for drafting the agreement if Leslie did not return the signed agreement within seven days.
- 6. On the same date, Leslie sent an email to respondent, providing the specific case information requested by respondent and contained a rambling narrative which included allegations that a girl on the soccer team exposed herself to him and she should be investigated for that exposure. This should put respondent on notice that Leslie's mental state was at issue.
- 7. On the same date, respondent sent an email to Leslie attaching a 13-page written retainer agreement. Pursuant to the terms of the agreement, respondent would bill Leslie at the rate of $375 per hour for attorney work.

- 8. The fee agreement was long and in extremely small print. Given the length and complexity of the contract, coupled with Leslie's impaired mental condition, the client did not understand all the terms of the fee agreement.
- 9. The fee agreement contained clauses not traditional in criminal defense cases, such as a five hour minimum charge for making court appearances, charging for the preparation of a motion to withdraw and charging attorney rates to perform clerical work.
- 10. Respondent was unfamiliar with mentally impaired individuals and lacked the knowledge and ability to handle them as clients.
  - 11. Leslie's matter was not complex and did not require considerable research.
- 12. On May 9, 2013, the parties executed the 13-page written retainer agreement. On the same date, respondent sent an email to Leslie recommending that he undergo a psychological evaluation because it "may be useful to your defense."
- 13. On May 10, 2013, respondent sent an email to Leslie with an invoice. In the email, respondent advised that he "spent at least 8.6 hours working aggressively on your case thus far" and requested an additional $10,000 as advanced fees. Respondent charged Leslie $3,225 at a rate of $375 per hour for work performed in Case No. M72876 from May 9 through May 10, 2013.
- 14. On May 11, 2013, based on respondent's request, Leslie paid respondent an additional $10,000 as advanced fees in Case No. M72876. On the same date, Leslie sent another rambling email to respondent which included using his "war chest" for "battle." Respondent received the email.
- 15. On May 13, 2013, respondent had a telephone discussion with Leslie's then-girlfriend and now current wife, Bronwyn Davis ("Davis"), regarding Leslie's history of mental illness and substance and alcohol abuse. Davis advised respondent that Leslie was delusional and acting strange.
- 16. On May 13, 2013, the parties executed a modification to the retainer agreement, correcting Leslie's name and adding the case number.
- 17. On or about May 16, 2013, Leslie sent another rambling email to respondent. Respondent received the email.
- 18. On May 18, 2013, Davis called the police based on Leslie's behavior. Davis wanted Leslie to be hospitalized, but instead, he was arrested and charged with domestic violence and vandalism.
- 19. On May 20, 2013, respondent visited Leslie in custody. Leslie hired respondent to represent him in the criminal matter stemming from charges for violating Penal Code section 273.5 [corporal injury on a spouse/cohabitant], a misdemeanor and section 594(a) [Vandalism under $400 damage], a misdemeanor (People v. Leslie, Santa Cruz Superior Court Case No. M73338). On the same date, the parties executed a 12-page written retainer agreement. Pursuant to the terms of the agreement, Leslie agreed to pay respondent advanced fees of $10,000, to be billed at a rate of $375 per hour for attorney time. On the same date, Leslie paid respondent $10,000 as advanced fees in Case No. M73338. Respondent also had Leslie execute a release for medical records.

- 20. On May 20, 2013, the parties entered into a second modification of the retainer agreement in Case No. M72876. The modification, in part, defined "out of town travel" as "travel more than 50 miles driving distance from the Rene C. Davidson Courthouse of the Alameda County Superior Court at 1225 Fallon Street in Oakland, CA 94612."
- 21. On May 22, 2013, respondent appeared at Leslie's arraignment in Case Nos. M72876 and M73338 and obtained a copy of discovery and the police reports. Leslie entered pleas of not guilty to all of the charges and the court issued a restraining order prohibiting Leslie from approaching Davis. On the same date, respondent requested an additional $25,000 as advanced fees for continued representation in Case Nos. M72876 and M73338, but Leslie did not pay the fee.
- 22. On May 22, 2013, Leslie showed up at Davis's residence, in violation of the restraining order and the police re-arrested Leslie. On the following day, respondent learned that Leslie had smeared ketchup on the entrance door of his home that Davis was concerned because Leslie was mentally unstable. Respondent received pictures of Leslie's vandalism.
- 23. On May 23, 2013, respondent visited Leslie in custody. At the meeting, respondent claims Leslie made threatening and inappropriate comments. Respondent told Leslie that he would likely withdraw from representation because he would not tolerate Leslie's abusive comments and belligerent behavior. Respondent also told Leslie that he would be charged for respondent's time to prepare the motion to withdraw.
- 24. On May 23, 2013, respondent prepared a motion to withdraw. On the same date, respondent prepared a letter for Leslie to sign to attach in support of the motion to withdraw.
- 25. On the morning of May 24, 2013, Davis sent an email to respondent notifying him about Leslie's incompetent state of mind. Respondent received the email.
- 26. On May 24, 2013, Davis provided respondent Leslie's checkbook so that Leslie would be able to post bail.
- 27. On May 24, 2013, respondent visited Leslie in custody. The parties entered into a modification of the retainer agreement in both cases. Respondent also requested an additional $10,000 as advanced fees. Respondent thereafter provided Leslie with Leslie's checkbook and Leslie wrote two checks of $5,000 each for advanced fees. During the meeting, respondent obtained Leslie's signature on the letter identified as "Written Termination of Attorney." On May 24, 2013, respondent filed with the court his motion to withdraw as counsel in both cases and personally served Leslie. Respondent thereafter immediately deposited the two checks.
- 28. At the time of respondent's withdrawal, he had provided little services of value. Respondent withdrawal because his client made offending comments to him does not constitute good cause since it is common in criminal defense practice.
- 29. Respondent submitted the modified fee agreements to Leslie when respondent should have known that Leslie was mentally impaired.
- 30. On May 24, 2013, Leslie hired attorney, Mark Garver ("Garver") to represent him in Case Nos. M72876 and M73338. On May 28, 2013, the court relieved respondent as counsel for Leslie in Case

Nos. M72876 and M73338. On May 29, 2013, Leslie appeared in court in a manic state. The court ordered Leslie to seek psychological services.

- 31. In total, Leslie paid respondent $33,500 as advanced fees, including costs of $600 in Case Nos. M72876 and M73338.
- 32. On June 5, 2013, Leslie, through Davis, sent an email to respondent requesting an accounting of fees and refund of unearned fees. Respondent received the email.
- 33. On June 7, 2013, respondent provided Leslie with two invoices. The first invoice, for work performed in Case No. M72876 from May 11 through June 7, included attorney fees of $14,737.50 for 39.3 hours at $375 per hour and the second invoice, for work performed in Case No. M73338 from May 20 through June 7, 2013, including attorney fees of $12,562.50 for 33.5 hours at $375 per hour. According to respondent's invoices, respondent owed a refund of $2,489.73, which respondent refunded at the time he provided the invoices.
- 34. Garver charged Leslie a flat fee of $10,000 for a pre-trial guilty plea of all of Leslie's pending criminal matters.
- 35. On February 19, 2015, the parties participated in non-binding fee arbitration. On May 18, 2015, the fee arbitration panel released its findings. On May 29, 2015, respondent paid Leslie $32,770.78, which included a refund of the remaining attorney fees respondent collected from Leslie.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

- 36. Respondent charged and collected a fee of $33,500 from Leslie to perform legal services that was unconscionable for the following reasons, in willful violation of Rules of Professional Conduct, rule 4-200(A):
  - The amount of the fee was disproportionate to the value of services provided;
  - The client was unsophisticated and mentally impaired at the time the client executed the fee agreements;
  - The issues presented were not novel and did not require specialized skills in criminal defense;
  - Respondent did not have a reputation or specialized ability to perform the services which would justify the fees;
  - Given the length and small font, coupled with his impaired mental state, the client did not provide informed written consent to the fees when he signed the fee agreement.

AGGRAVATING CIRCUMSTANCES.

Lack of Recognition of Wrongdoing (Std. 1.5(k)): Respondent continues to believe that he provided services of value to Leslie and was entitled to the fees and costs he charged Leslie. He has little understanding or recognition that his actions were inappropriate.

Vulnerable Client (Std. 1.5(n)): Respondent took advantage of Leslie's mental state by continuing to collect fees after respondent was aware that Leslie may have been suffering from manic episodes and paranoid delusions.

MITIGATING CIRCUMSTANCES.

Additional Mitigating Circumstances:

No Prior Discipline: Respondent was admitted in 2007 and has no prior record of discipline. (Friedman v. State Bar (1990) 50 Cal.3d 235, 245 [Even when the present misconduct is serious, an attorney is entitled to mitigation credit].)

Prefiling Stipulation: By entering into a pre-filing, dispositive stipulation, respondent has spared the State Bar time and resources. (Silva-Vidor v. State Bar (1989) 49 Cal.3d 1071, 1079 [where mitigative credit was given for entering into a stipulation as to facts and culpability].)

Good Character (Std. 1.6(f)): Respondent has offered evidence of good character through seven good character witnesses that include a criminal justice law professor, physicians and an attorney These witnesses understand the facts of respondent's misconduct, yet they continue to maintain their high regard for respondent's character and competence.

Pro bono Activities/Community Service: Respondent has served on the Executive Committee of the San Francisco chapter of National Lawyers Guild and provide pro-bono services to Earthjustice and Communities for a Better Environment, environmental conservation non-profits located in Oakland, and to Education Not Incarceration, an Oakland-based educational non-profit. Community service is to be considered as a mitigating factor. (Calvert v. State Bar (1991) 54 Cal.3d 765, 785, citing Schneider v. State Bar (1987) 43 Cal.3d 784, 799.)

AUTHORITIES SUPPORTING DISCIPLINE.

The Standards for Attorney Sanctions for Professional Misconduct "set forth a means for determining the appropriate disciplinary sanction in a particular case and to ensure consistency across cases dealing with similar misconduct and surrounding circumstances." (Rules Proc. of State Bar, tit. IV, Stds. for Atty. Sanctions for Prof. Misconduct, std. 1.1. All further references to standards are to this source).

The Standards help fulfill the primary purposes of discipline, which include: protection of the public, the courts and the legal profession; maintenance of high professional standards; and preservation of public confidence in the legal profession. (In re Morse (1995) 11 Cal.4th 184, 205.)

Although not binding, the standards are entitled to "great weight" and should be followed "whenever possible" in determining level of discipline. (In re Silverton (2005) 36 Cal.4th 81, 92, quoting In re Brown (1995) 12 Cal.4th 205, 220 and In re Young (1989) 49 Cal.3d 257, 267, fn. 11.) Adherence to the standards in the great majority of cases serves the valuable purpose of eliminating disparity and assuring consistency, that is, the imposition of similar attorney discipline for instances of similar attorney misconduct. (In re Naney (1990) 51 Cal.3d 186, 190.) If a recommendation is at the high end or low end of a Standard, an explanation must be given as to how the recommendation was reached. (Std. 1.1.) Any discipline recommendation that deviates from the Standards must include clear reasons for the departure. (Std. 1.1; Blair v. State Bar (1989) 49 Cal.3d 762, 776, fn. 5.)

In determining whether to impose a sanction greater or less than that specified in a given Standard, consideration is to be given to the primary purposes of discipline; the balancing of all aggravating and mitigating circumstances; the type of misconduct at issue; whether the client, public, legal system or profession was harmed; and the member's willingness and ability to conform to ethical responsibilities in the future. (Stds. 1.7(b) and (c).)

Standard 2.3, which applies to matters where the attorney charges and collects an unconscionable fee, calls for an actual suspension of at least six months. According to Standard 1.7(b), if aggravating circumstances are found, they should be considered alone and in balance with any mitigating circumstances. In aggravation, Leslie was a highly vulnerable client. In addition, respondent demonstrated little recognition of wrongdoing and continues to believe that his conduct was appropriate. In mitigation, respondent has eight years of discipline-free practice, cooperated with the State Bar, engaged in pro-bono work, and established good character.

Considered in total, the aggravation and mitigation are about evenly weighted and therefore do not compel a deviation from Standard 2.3. Additionally, a six month actual suspension not only falls within the Standards, but also protects the public, the courts and the legal profession, maintains high professional standards, and preserves the public's confidence in the legal profession, and therefore is appropriate here.

COSTS OF DISCIPLINARY PROCEEDINGS.

Respondent acknowledges that the Office of the Chief Trial Counsel has informed Respondent that as of July 8, 2015, the prosecution costs in this matter are approximately $3,100. Respondent further acknowledges that should this stipulation be rejected or should relief from the stipulation be granted, the costs in this matter may increase due to the cost of further proceedings.

EXCLUSION FROM MCLE CREDIT

Pursuant to rule 3201, Respondent may not receive MCLE credit for completion of State Bar Ethics School and State Bar Client Trust Accounting School. (Rules Proc. of State Bar, rule 3201.)
