CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

8. By initiating a transfer on insufficient funds when he was grossly negligent in not knowing that there were insufficient funds to cover the transfer, Respondent committed an act involving moral turpitude, dishonesty, or corruption in violation of Business and Professions Code section 6106.

9. By failing to respond to the State Bar or otherwise participate in the disciplinary investigation, Respondent wilfully violated Business and Professions Code section 6068(i).

AGGRAVATING CIRCUMSTANCES.

Multiple Acts of Wrongdoing (Std. 1.5(b)). Respondent has engaged in multiple acts of misconduct. In addition to initiating an electronic transfer from his CTA on insufficient funds, Respondent thereafter failed to participate in the disciplinary investigation in violation of the oath and duties of an attorney. These represent separate and distinct acts of misconduct. Multiple acts of wrongdoing are an aggravating factor. (In the Matter of Elkins (Review Dept. 2009) 5 Cal. State Bar Ct. Rptr. 160, 168.)

MITIGATING CIRCUMSTANCES.

Pretrial Stipulation: Respondent admitted to the misconduct and entered into this stipulation fully resolving this matter. Respondent's cooperation at this stage will save the State Bar resources and time. Respondent's cooperation in this regard is a mitigating factor in this resolution (Silva-Vidor v. State Bar (1989) 49 Cal.3d 1071, 1079 (where mitigation credit was given for entering into a stipulation as to facts and culpability).) Nevertheless, the weight is reduced due to Respondent's failure to participate in the disciplinary investigation.

Absence of Prior Record of Discipline. Respondent was admitted to practice law in December 2001. Respondent had been discipline-free for approximately 12 years of practice from admission to the misconduct in September 2014. Therefore, Respondent is entitled to significant mitigation. (Hawes v. State Bar (1990) 51 Cal.3d 587, 596 (over ten years of discipline free practice prior to the misconduct is entitled to significant weight in mitigation).)

Recognition of Wrongdoing. Respondent has recognized that the electronic transfer on insufficient funds as well as his practices related to his client trust account have been improper. Specifically, he has made payment on client matters without first obtaining funds from the client. However, on November 12, 2015, Respondent changed his law office policy and now requires his clients to pay their application fee directly. Changes in law office procedure designed to avoid repetition of the misconduct have been found mitigating. (In the Matter of Yee (Review Dept. 2014) 5 Cal. State Bar Ct. Rptr. 330.)

Lack of Harm to Client. Even though Respondent issued the transfer on behalf of his client on insufficient funds, that transfer was ultimately honored by the bank. His client's immigration application was successfully processed and the client was not harmed. Lack of harm, in this instance, is due to the bank's decision to honor the instrument. Nevertheless, lack of harm is relevant in mitigation. (In the Matter of Sklar (Review Dept. 1993) 2 Cal. State Bar Ct. Rptr. 602, 617 (lack of harm found where a loan was made to the client which did not comport with former rule 5-104, now Rules of Professional Conduct, rule 4-210).)

AUTHORITIES SUPPORTING DISCIPLINE.

The Standards for Attorney Sanctions for Professional Misconduct “set forth a means for determining the appropriate disciplinary sanction in a particular case and to ensure consistency across cases dealing with similar misconduct and surrounding circumstances.” (Rules Proc. of State Bar, tit. IV, Stds. for Atty. Sanctions for Prof. Misconduct, std. 1.1. All further references to Standards are to this source.) The Standards help fulfill the primary purposes of discipline, which include: protection of the public, the courts and the legal profession; maintenance of the highest professional standards; and preservation of public confidence in the legal profession. (See std. 1.1; In re Morse (1995) 11 Cal.4th 184, 205.)

Although not binding, the standards are entitled to “great weight” and should be followed “whenever possible” in determining level of discipline. (In re Silvertown (2005) 36 Cal.4th 81, 92, quoting In re Brown (1995) 12 Cal.4th 205, 220 and In re Young (1989) 49 Cal.3d 257, 267, fn. 11.) Adherence to the standards in the great majority of cases serves the valuable purpose of eliminating disparity and assuring consistency, that is, the imposition of similar attorney discipline for instances of similar attorney misconduct. (In re Naney (1990) 51 Cal.3d 186, 190.) If a recommendation is at the high end or low end of a Standard, an explanation must be given as to how the recommendation was reached. (Std. 1.1.) “Any disciplinary recommendation that deviates from the Standards must include clear reasons for the departure.” (Std. 1.1; Blair v. State Bar (1989) 49 Cal.3d 762, 776, fn. 5.)

In determining whether to impose a sanction greater or less than that specified in a given standard, in addition to the factors set forth in the specific standard, consideration is to be given to the primary purposes of discipline; the balancing of all aggravating and mitigating circumstances; the type of misconduct at issue; whether the client, public, legal system or profession was harmed; and the member’s willingness and ability to conform to ethical responsibilities in the future. (Stds. 1.7(b) and (c).)

Standard 2.11 states that “Disbarment or actual suspension” is the presumed sanction for an act of moral turpitude. The degree of sanction depends on the magnitude of the misconduct and the extent to which the misconduct harmed or misled the victim and related to the member’s practice of law. The issuance of checks on insufficient funds is an act of moral turpitude. (See, In the Matter of Hagen (Review Dept. 1992) 2 Cal. State Bar Ct. Rptr. 153, 169.)

Standard 2.12 states that reproof is the presumed sanction for a violation of the Oath and Duties of an attorney embodied in Business and Professions Code section 6068(i).

Standard 1.7(a) states that where an attorney commits two or more acts of misconduct and different standards apply, the most severe standard should be imposed. Here, that is Standard 2.11 which calls for disbarment or actual suspension.

Here, the misconduct involves the mismanagement of a CTA. All three of the payments made in September 2014 were made to United States Citizenship and Immigration Services. While all three payments were made on behalf of clients, the insufficiency of the funds indicates that the CTA had been mismanaged.

Moreover, Respondent has compounded his misconduct by refusing to participate in the State Bar disciplinary investigation. Respondent was given multiple opportunities beginning in November 2014 to participate and explain the overdraft. Respondent at all times failed to do so. Therefore, his misconduct is aggravated by multiple acts.

The misconduct and aggravation must be balanced against the factors in mitigation. Respondent is entitled to significant mitigation due to his 12 years of discipline-free practice prior to the misconduct. Further, Respondent has taken action to ensure that the particular mismanagement that occurred here would not be repeated. Also noteworthy is the fact that this matter arose due to a report from a banking institution and not as a result of a client complaint. Nevertheless, the mismanagement of the CTA raises serious concerns.

Consistent with Standard 2.11, Respondent should be suspended for a period of two years with the execution of that suspension stayed. Respondent should be put on a two-year period of probation with conditions including an actual suspension of one 60 days. Conditions should also include attendance at State Bar Client Trust Accounting School as well as the filing of a Client Funds Certificate each quarter.

Case law supports this recommendation. In Segal v. State Bar (1988) 44 Cal.3d 1077, the attorney was found culpable for failing to competently perform, failing to communicate, and issuing three checks on insufficient funds. In aggravation, the Supreme Court found that there were multiple acts and further noted that the attorney had a prior record of discipline which included a ninety-day period of actual suspension. The Court imposed discipline including a one-year period of actual suspension.

The misconduct present here does not include a failure to perform or a failure to communicate – though it does include failure to cooperate in a State Bar investigation. On the whole, however, the misconduct is less serious than in Segal. Further, Respondent lacks a record of prior discipline, which was a significant aggravating factor in Segal. Because the misconduct is less serious and the mitigation is more favorable to Respondent, a lesser sanction than that imposed in Segal is warranted.

Kelly v. State Bar (1991) 53 Cal.3d 509, is also instructive. There, the attorney wrote checks on insufficient funds in two different client matters. The attorney also misappropriated $1500 from one client, although the Court held that he did so without an intent to permanently deprive his client of the funds. In mitigation, the attorney had 13 years of practice without prior discipline, no wrongful intent, and no harm to clients. The Court imposed, inter alia, an actual suspension of 120 days.

The misconduct in this instance is similar to Kelly, however it involves fewer checks written on insufficient funds in fewer matters. Therefore, the misconduct less serious. The mitigating factors are similarly weighty. Further, Respondent has recognized and taken steps to avoid the misconduct in the future. Therefore, Respondent should receive a lesser sanction.

COSTS OF DISCIPLINARY PROCEEDINGS.

Respondent acknowledges that the Office of Chief Trial Counsel has informed Respondent that as of November 24, 2015, the prosecution costs in this matter are $3,584. Respondent further acknowledges that should this stipulation be rejected or should relief from the stipulation be granted, the costs in this matter may increase due to the cost of further proceedings.

EXCLUSION FROM MCLE CREDIT

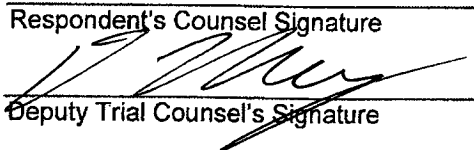

Pursuant to rule 3201, Respondent may not receive MCLE credit for completion of State Bar Ethics School or State Bar Client Trust Accounting School. (Rules Proc. of State Bar, rule 3201.)
