STIPULATION RE FACTS, CONCLUSIONS OF LAW AND DISPOSITION

IN THE MATTER OF: TRENT WAYNE THOMPSON

CASE NUMBER: 15-O-15763

FACTS AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW.

Respondent admits that the following facts are true and that he is culpable of violations of the specified statutes and/or Rules of Professional Conduct.

Case No. 15-O-15763 (State Bar Investigation)

FACTS:

1. Respondent has maintained an IOLTA client trust account at JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A. (formerly Washington Mutual Bank), account number *8966, ("CTA") since September 19, 2006.

2. On November 12, 2015, JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A., notified the State Bar that the CTA had an insufficient balance for payment on November 9, 2015, when a check was presented and not paid.

3. Between August 1, 2015, and December 31, 2015, respondent failed to properly keep records for the funds held in his CTA for clients and partly relied on a bookkeeper who was unable to properly continue assisting respondent in managing his CTA due to her severe medical issues. Respondent also failed to prepare and maintain an appropriate written ledger for his clients, an appropriate written journal for the client trust account, and an appropriate monthly reconciliation for the written ledger, written journal, and bank statement.

4. Between August 4, 2015, and December 18, 2015, respondent issued fifteen checks and electronic withdrawals from funds in respondent's CTA for the payment of personal expenses.

5. Between August 26, 2015, and November 23, 2015, respondent held personal funds in the CTA after the time respondent's interest in the funds had become fixed. On August 26, 2015, respondent deposited a check for $10,000 from his parents into his CTA. $4,162.51 of this amount was held as advance fees and the remaining $5,837.49 was a personal loan from his parents. Respondent held portions of the $5,837.49 loan in the CTA until November 23, 2015.

6. Between August 1, 2015, and August 26, 2015, respondent repeatedly failed to maintain funds on behalf of his clients and misappropriated with gross negligence, for respondent's own purposes, the sum of $3,445.83, held for respondent's clients in trust.

7. On August 26, 2015, respondent deposited personal funds sufficient to cover the CTA deficiency totaling $3,445.83.

8. Between September 15, 2015, and September 25, 2015, respondent repeatedly failed to maintain funds on behalf of his clients and misappropriated with gross negligence, for respondent's own purposes, the sum of $2,399.66, held for respondent's clients in trust.

9. On September 25, 2015, respondent deposited personal funds sufficient to cover the CTA deficiency totaling $2,399.66.

10. Therefore, between August 1, 2015 and September 25, 2015, respondent repeatedly failed to maintain funds on behalf of his clients and misappropriated with gross negligence, for respondent's own purposes, the cumulative sum of $5,845.49 held for respondent's clients in trust.

11. Respondent, of his own volition and without prompting by the State Bar, attended and successfully completed State Bar Client Trust Accounting School on February 5, 2016. Respondent again attended and successfully completed State Bar Client Trust Accounting School on February 7, 2018.

12. From July 2016 to the present, respondent has employed a retired Certified Public Accountant to assist him with accounts payable, bank reconciliations, maintaining the CTA records, preparing year-end reports for income tax, and monthly reconciliation of the CTA.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

13. By issuing fifteen checks and electronic withdrawals from funds in respondent's CTA for the payment of personal expenses between August 4, 2015 and December 18, 2015, respondent held funds belonging to him or the law firm and committed acts of commingling, and thereby willfully violated Rules of Professional Conduct, former rule 4-100(A).

14. By holding portions of the $5,837.49 personal loan in the CTA from August 26, 2015, to November 23, 2015, respondent held funds belonging to him or the law firm and committed an act of commingling, and thereby willfully violated Rules of Professional Conduct, former rule 4-100(A).

15. By repeatedly failing to maintain a balance in his CTA equal to the amount of funds he was entrusted to hold on behalf of his clients between August 1, 2015, and September 25, 2015, respondent failed to maintain funds on behalf of a client in respondent's CTA, and thereby willfully violated Rules of Professional Conduct, former rule 4-100(A).

16. By misappropriating with gross negligence, for respondent's own purposes, between August 1, 2015 and September 25, 2015, the cumulative sum of $5,845.49 held in trust for respondent's clients, respondent committed an act involving moral turpitude and thereby willfully violated Business and Professions Code section 6106.

17. By failing to prepare and maintain an appropriate written ledger for his clients, an appropriate written journal for the client trust account, and an appropriate monthly reconciliation for the written ledger, written journal, and bank statement between August 1, 2015, and December 31, 2015, respondent failed to maintain records of all funds, securities, and other properties of a client coming into his possession, and thereby willfully violated Rules of Professional Conduct, former rule 4-100(C).

ADDITIONAL FACTS RE AGGRAVATING CIRCUMSTANCES.

Multiple Acts of Misconduct (Std. 1.5(b)): Respondent committed sixteen separate acts of commingling by paying personal expenses from this client trust account, and failing to timely withdraw personal funds held in the client trust account. Respondent failed to maintain proper accounting records. Respondent repeatedly failed to maintain funds on behalf of his clients in his client trust account between August 1, 2015 and September 25, 2015. Respondent misappropriated with gross negligence a cumulative sum of $5,774.32. Respondent's multiple acts of misconduct warrant aggravation.

ADDITIONAL FACTS RE MITIGATING CIRCUMSTANCES.

No Prior Discipline: Respondent was admitted to practice on July 13, 2001, and has no prior record of discipline. Respondent had approximately 14 years of practice to the misconduct that began in August 2015. Respondent is entitled to significant mitigation credit for his 14 years of discipline-free practice prior to the current misconduct. (Hawes v. State Bar (1990) 51 Cal.3d 587, 596 [ten years of discipline-free practice given "significant weight" in mitigation].)

Extraordinary Good Character (Std. 1.6(f)): Respondent has presented evidence of his good character attested to by a wide range of references in the legal and general communities, whose are aware of the full extent of respondent's misconduct, including two pastors, three attorneys, a retired CPA, and respondent's father and sister. The quality and quantity of respondent's character evidence warrants significant mitigating weight, particularly due to the testimony of witnesses who have a strong interest in maintaining the honest administration of justice. (In the Matter of Yee (Review Dept. 2014) 5 Cal. State Bar Ct. Rptr. 330, 335.)

Additionally, respondent has served as a leader and part-time pastor at his church, served on the Board of a local arts non-profit, and has provided pro bono legal services for nonprofits in his community including churches and a local homeless shelter. Respondent's civic service and charitable work warrant mitigation as evidence of good character. (In the Matter of Respondent K (Review Dept. 1993) 2 Cal. State Bar Ct. Rptr. 335, 359; Porter v. State Bar (1990) 52 Cal.3d 518, 529.)

Pretrial Stipulation: By entering into this stipulation, respondent has acknowledged misconduct and is entitled to mitigation for recognition of wrongdoing and saving the State Bar significant resources and time. (Silva-Vidor v. State Bar (1989) 49 Cal.3d 1071, 1079 [where mitigative credit was given for entering into a stipulation as to facts and culpability]; In the Matter of Spaith (Review Dept. 1996) 3 Cal. State Bar Ct. Rptr. 511, 521 [where the attorney's stipulation to facts and culpability was held to be a mitigating circumstance].)

AUTHORITIES SUPPORTING DISCIPLINE.

The Standards for Attorney Sanctions for Professional Misconduct "set forth a means for determining the appropriate disciplinary sanction in a particular case and to ensure consistency across cases dealing with similar misconduct and surrounding circumstances." (Rules Proc. of State Bar, tit. IV, Stds. for Atty. Sanctions for Prof. Misconduct, std. 1.1. All further references to standards are to this source.) The standards help fulfill the primary purposes of discipline, which include: protection of the public, the courts and the legal profession; maintenance of the highest professional standards; and preservation of public confidence in the legal profession. (See std. 1.1; In re Morse (1995) 11 Cal.4th 184, 205.)

Although not binding, the standards are entitled to "great weight" and should be followed "whenever possible" in determining level of discipline. (In re Silverton (2005) 36 Cal.4th 81, 92, quoting In re Brown (1995) 12 Cal.4th 205, 220 and In re Young (1989) 49 Cal.3d 257, 267, fn. 11.) Adherence to the standards in the great majority of cases serves the valuable purpose of eliminating disparity and assuring consistency, that is, the imposition of similar attorney discipline for instances of similar attorney misconduct. (In re Naney (1990) 51 Cal.3d 186, 190.) If a recommendation is at the high end or low end of a standard, an explanation must be given as to how the recommendation was reached. (Std. 1.1.) "Any disciplinary recommendation that deviates from the Standards must include clear reasons for the departure." (Std. 1.1; Blair v. State Bar (1989) 49 Cal.3d 762, 776, fn. 5.)

In determining whether to impose a sanction greater or less than that specified in a given standard, in addition to the factors set forth in the specific standard, consideration is to be given to the primary purposes of discipline; the balancing of all aggravating and mitigating circumstances; the type of misconduct at issue; whether the client, public, legal system or profession was harmed; and the member's willingness and ability to conform to ethical responsibilities in the future. (Stds. 1.7(b) and (c).)

In this matter, respondent admits to committing five acts of professional misconduct. Standard 1.7(a) requires that where a respondent "commits two or more acts of misconduct and the Standards specify different sanctions for each act, the most severe sanction must be imposed."

The most severe sanctions applicable to respondent's misconduct are found in standard 2.1(b), which applies to respondent's violation of Business and Professions Code section 6106, and standard 2.2(a), which applies to respondent's violation of Rules of Professional Conduct, former rule 4-100(A).

Standard 2.1(b) provides that actual suspension is the presumed sanction for misappropriation involving gross negligence. Standard 2.2(a) provides that actual suspension of three months is the presumed sanction for commingling. Standard 2.1(b) was revised in 2014 to recommend discipline of disbarment or actual suspension for misappropriation involving gross negligence. Standard 2.1(b) was again revised in 2015, stating that actual suspension is the recommended discipline for misappropriation involving gross negligence, and removing disbarment from the recommended range. No published cases have analyzed discipline under the revised Standard 2.1(b), though case law concerning grossly negligent conduct is instructive. The former version of Standard 2.2 recommended that discipline for the willful misappropriation of a client's property, absent mitigating circumstances, was disbarment; even with mitigation, the discipline should not be less than a one-year actual suspension.

The gravamen of this case involves respondent's grossly negligent misuse of his CTA. At the time of the misconduct, respondent failed to keep proper records and overly relied on an employee who was unable to properly continue assisting respondent in managing his CTA due to her severe medical issues. Since that period, respondent has twice attended and successfully completed the State Bar Client Trust Accounting School, and has employed a bookkeeper to assist him with CTA records and reconciliation, which indicates that his misconduct is unlikely to recur. There is no evidence of harm to any clients. Respondent committed multiple acts of misconduct, all relating to the misuse of his CTA. The mitigating circumstances present outweigh the aggravating circumstances. Respondent is entitled to significant mitigation for approximately 14 years of discipline-free practice prior to the misconduct, good character, and cooperating with the State Bar in entering into a stipulation to resolve the matter, thereby demonstrating recognition of wrongdoing and saving the State Bar significant resources and time.

Therefore, a two-year stayed suspension with two years of probation, including a ninety-day actual suspension is appropriate to accomplish the goals of attorney discipline.

Case law is instructive. In Coppock v. State Bar (1988) 44 Cal.3d 665, the California Supreme Court imposed a 90-day actual suspension with two years stayed suspension and two years' probation. The Court found that Coppock allowed a client to use a trust account in a scheme to defraud, which the Court characterized as "gross carelessness and negligence." (Id. at 681.) Coppock was given minimal mitigation for having no prior record of discipline, lack of harm, good character, and cooperation. (Id. at 686-87.)

Respondent's misconduct was very similar to Coppock's. Respondent has significant mitigation due to his good character, having no prior record of discipline, and his entering the stipulation, but unlike Coppock, respondent also has aggravation through the multiple acts of misconduct. On balance, respondent's discipline should be similar to the discipline received by Coppock.

COSTS OF DISCIPLINARY PROCEEDINGS.

Respondent acknowledges that the Office of Chief Trial Counsel has informed respondent that as of January 3, 2019, the discipline costs in this matter are $4,424.25. Respondent further acknowledges that should this stipulation be rejected or should relief from the stipulation be granted, the costs in this matter may increase due to the cost of further proceedings.

STATE BAR CLIENT TRUST ACCOUNTING SCHOOL NOT REQUIRED

Respondent is not required to complete State Bar Client Trust Account School because respondent attended State Bar Client Trust Accounting School on February 5, 2016, and February 7, 2018, and passed the tests given at the end of each session.
