STIPULATION RE FACTS, CONCLUSIONS OF LAW AND DISPOSITION

IN THE MATTER OF: RICHARD DENNIS COATS

CASE NUMBER: 16-O-16422

FACTS AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW.

Respondent admits that the following facts are true and that he is culpable of violations of the specified statutes and/or Rules of Professional Conduct.

Case No. 16-O-16422 (State Bar Investigation)

FACTS:

1. On June 19, 2015, the California Supreme Court filed an order imposing discipline against respondent in State Bar Court Case No. 14-O-01611 (Supreme Court Case No. S225504), including a one-year stayed suspension, one year of probation, and 30 days' actual suspension. The discipline became effective July 19, 2015. Respondent was ordered to comply with the following relevant conditions of probation, among other conditions:

- Respondent must submit written quarterly reports to the Office of Probation on each January 10, April 10, July 10, and October 10 of the period of probation. Under penalty of perjury, respondent must state whether respondent has complied with the State Bar Act, the Rules of Professional Conduct, and all conditions of probation during the preceding calendar quarter. Respondent must also state whether there are any proceedings pending against him or her in the State Bar Court, and if so, the case number and current status of that proceeding. If the first report would cover less than 30 days, that report shall be submitted in the next quarter date, and cover that extended period.

In addition to all quarterly reports, a final report, containing the same information, is due no earlier than twenty (20) days before the last day of the period of probation and no later than the last day of probation; and

- Within one (1) year of the effective date of the discipline herein, respondent must provide to the Office of Probation satisfactory proof of attendance at a session of the Ethics School, and passage of the test given at the end of that session.

2. The Supreme Court order also required respondent to take and pass the Multistate Professional Responsibility Examination within one year after the effective date of the order and to provide proof of such passage to the State Bar Office of Probation.

3. On July 17, 2015, a probation deputy of the Office of Probation sent a letter to respondent at his State Bar Membership records address advising respondent of his probation conditions. Respondent received the July 17, 2015 letter.

4. On August 3, 2015, respondent had a telephonic meeting with a probation deputy, during which the probation deputy again explained respondent's probation conditions. Respondent indicated he understood the probation conditions.

5. Respondent had actual knowledge of the Supreme Court's order and of all conditions of probation.

6. Respondent violated his probation by:

- a. Failing to submit to the Office of Probation his July 10, 2016 quarterly report by that date or at any other time,
- b. Failing to submit to the Office of Probation his final report, which was due by July 19, 2016, at any time to date, and
- c. Failing to provide satisfactory proof to the Office of Probation of attendance at a session of Ethics School, and passage of the test given at the end of that session.

7. On September 9, 2016, the Office of Probation mailed a letter to respondent at his State Bar Membership records address and emailed respondent advising him that he was in violation of probation. Respondent received the letter. To date, respondent has not submitted to the Office of Probation the July 10, 2016 quarterly report, the final report, nor satisfactory proof of attendance at a session of Ethics School, and proof of passage of the test given at the end of Ethics School.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

8. Respondent violated conditions of probation by failing to submit one quarterly report due July 10, 2016; by failing to submit a final report due July 19, 2016; and by failing to complete Ethics School. Thus, the respondent willfully violated section 6068(k) of the Business and Professions Code.

AGGRAVATING CIRCUMSTANCES.

Prior Record of Discipline (Std. 1.5(a)): Respondent has a prior record of discipline, Supreme Court Case Number S225504, consisting of the discipline from which the current probation was imposed. The prior discipline was based upon respondent knowingly and falsely reporting to the State Bar, under penalty of perjury, that he was in compliance with his MCLE requirements. However, respondent had no proof that he completed any hours of the required 25 units of MCLE between January 2, 2010 and January 31, 2013. The California Supreme Court filed an order imposing discipline including a one-year stayed suspension, one year of probation, and 30 days' actual suspension. The discipline became effective July 19, 2015.

Multiple Acts of Wrongdoing (Std. 1.5(b)): Respondent failed to comply with three separate conditions of probation in that he failed to submit one quarterly report, failed to submit one final report and failed to attend Ethics School. (In the Matter of Tiernan (Review Dept, 1996) 3 Cal. State Bar Ct.

Rptr. 523, 529-530 [respondent's six separate probation violations evidenced multiple acts of wrongdoing, and not a pattern of misconduct].)

MITIGATING CIRCUMSTANCES.

Pretrial Stipulation: By entering into this stipulation, respondent has acknowledged misconduct and is entitled to mitigation for recognition of wrongdoing and saving the State Bar significant resources and time. (Silva-Vidor v. State Bar (1989) 49 Cal.3d 1071, 1079 [where mitigative credit was given for entering into a stipulation as to facts and culpability]); In the Matter of Spaith (Review Dept. 1996) 3 Cal. State Bar Ct. Rptr. 511, 521 [where the attorney's stipulation to facts and culpability was held to be a mitigating circumstance].)

AUTHORITIES SUPPORTING DISCIPLINE.

The Standards for Attorney Sanctions for Professional Misconduct "set forth a means for determining the appropriate disciplinary sanction in a particular case and to ensure consistency across cases dealing with similar misconduct and surrounding circumstances." (Rules Proc. Of State Bar, tit. IV, Stds. For Atty. Sanctions for Prof. Misconduct, Std. 1.1; hereinafter "Standards.") The Standards help fulfill the primary purposes of discipline, which include: protection of the public, the courts, and the legal profession; maintenance of the highest professional standards; and preservation of public confidence in the legal profession. (See, Std. 1.1; In re Morse (1995) 11 Cal.4th 184, 205.)

Although not binding, the Standards are entitled to "great weight" and should be followed "whenever possible" in determining level of discipline. (In re Silverton (2005) 36 Cal.4th 81, 92 (quoting In re Brown (1995) 12 Cal.4th 205, 220 and In re Young (1989) 49 Cal.3d 257, 267, fn. 11).) Adherence to the Standards in the great majority of cases serves the valuable purpose of eliminating disparity and assuring consistency, that is, the imposition of similar attorney discipline for instances of similar attorney misconduct. (In re Naney (1990) 51 Cal.3d 186, 190.) If a recommendation is at the high end or low end of a Standard, an explanation must be given as to how the recommendation was reached. (Std. 1.1.) "Any disciplinary recommendation that deviates from the Standards must include clear reasons for the departure." (Std. 1.1; Blair v. State Bar (1989) 49 Cal.3d 762, 776 & fn. 5.)

In determining whether to impose a sanction greater or less than that specified in a given Standard, in addition to the factors set forth in the specific Standard, consideration is to be given to the primary purpose of discipline; the balancing of all aggravating and mitigating circumstances; the type of misconduct at issue; whether the client, public, legal system, or profession was harmed; and the member's willingness and ability to conform to ethical responsibilities in the future. (Stds. 1.7(b)-(c).)

Standard 2.14 applies to a violation of Business and Professions Code section 6068(k). It states:

Actual suspension is the presumed sanction for failing to comply with a condition of discipline. The degree of the sanction depends on the nature of the condition violated and the member's unwillingness or inability to comply with disciplinary orders.

Periods of actual suspension can range from 30 days to three years. (Std. 1.2(c)(1).) Respondent's current misconduct shows a continuation of his unwillingness or inability to comply with his obligations as an attorney and officer of the court in a manner which bears on his fitness to practice law. Respondent failed to comply with the underlying disciplinary probation by violating three separate and distinct conditions of probation, thereby violating the Supreme Court's order. Thus, respondent's conduct warrants a substantial period of actual suspension.

Furthermore Standard 1.8(a) applies to cases in which a member has a prior record of discipline. Standard 1.8(a) indicates that the sanction for the subsequent discipline must be greater than the previously imposed sanction, "unless the prior discipline was so remote in time and the previous misconduct was not serious enough that imposing greater discipline would be manifestly unjust."

Respondent's prior misconduct of knowingly and falsely reporting to the State Bar, under penalty of perjury, that he complied with MCLE requirements was serious and not remote in time. It is serious misconduct, and bears on respondent's moral turpitude, to lie to the State Bar. Furthermore, respondent's prior misconduct, which occurred on February 1, 2013, was not remote. Thus, it would not be manifestly unjust to impose upon respondent a greater discipline than his previously imposed discipline.

"Part B. Sanctions for Specific Misconduct" of the Standard for Attorney Sanctions for Professional Misconduct states, "[t]he presumed sanction for any specific act of misconduct is a starting point for the imposition of discipline, but can be adjusted up or down depending on the application of mitigating and aggravating circumstances set forth in Standards 1.5 and 1.6, and the balancing of these circumstances as described in Standards 1.7(b) and (c)."

When determining the level of discipline, consideration must be given to the aggravating and mitigating circumstances. Aggravating circumstances and mitigating circumstances must be established by clear and convincing evidence. (Rules Proc. of State Bar, tit. IV, Stds. for Attorney Sanctions for Prof. Misconduct, stds. 1.5 and 1.6). Here, there is clear and convincing evidence that shows aggravating circumstances, in that, respondent has a prior record of discipline involving moral turpitude upon which the current probation was imposed. In addition, respondent committed multiple acts of wrongdoing in his failure to comply with probation conditions. Respondent is also entitled to mitigation credit given his willingness to enter into this stipulation as to facts, conclusions of law and disposition. Balancing the aggravating factors against the mitigating factor, supports substantial discipline within the range of Standard 2.14 is warranted.

When respondent entered into the 2014 stipulation for his prior discipline, he was aware of the probation conditions he had to meet. Respondent was also contacted by the Office of Probation during his probation period, and he initially complied with probation conditions. However, given respondent's three separate probation violations and his continued failure to bring himself into compliance, two years' stayed suspension, three years' probation, and one year actual suspension is appropriate to protect the public, the courts and the legal profession, maintain high professional standards, and preserve public confidence in the legal profession.

Case law supports one year actual suspension as well. In the Matter of Gorman (Review Dept. 2003) 4 Cal. State Ct. Rptr. 567, 573, the Review Department acknowledged that there is a wide range of discipline for an attorney who has committed probation violations. The level of discipline can range from "merely extending probation...to imposition of the full amount of stayed suspension in the underlying disciplinary matter as actual suspension." More serious sanctions should be imposed to those probation violations closely related to the reasons for imposing discipline, and the prior record of discipline should also be taken into consideration. In the instant case, respondent's failure to submit one quarterly report, failure to submit one final report, and failure to complete Ethics School raises great concerns that he has not rehabilitated from his prior misconduct and that public protection could be compromised by respondent's inability to conform his conduct to the ethical standards demanded of attorneys.

The courts have consistently held that failure to abide by terms and conditions of probation is a serious violation. (See Potack v. State Bar (1991) 54 Cal.3d 132, 139). In Potack, the Supreme Court determined that the attorney willfully failed to comply with the terms of his probation after he was given ample opportunity by the State Bar. The attorney's disciplinary order in the underlying matter stayed execution of a two-year suspension on the condition that he comply with specified terms and conditions of probation. The Supreme Court held that "[a]lthough petitioner attempts to minimize his probation violation and subsequent misconduct with respect to the default proceedings, his failure to abide by the terms and conditions of his probation is a serious violation, warranting the review department's recommendation that our 1986 order staying suspension be set aside." (Id.) Although Potack involved a probation revocation proceeding, rather than a disciplinary proceeding, it is instructive on the Court's view on probation violation matters. In the instant matter, discipline including one year actual suspension, consistent with the discipline imposed in Potack, is appropriate.

COSTS OF DISCIPLINARY PROCEEDINGS.

Respondent acknowledges that the Office of Chief Trial Counsel has informed respondent that as of January 9, 2017, the discipline costs in this matter are approximately $3,669. Respondent further acknowledges that should this stipulation be rejected or should relief from the stipulation be granted, the costs in this matter may increase due to the cost of further proceedings.

EXCLUSION FROM MINIMUM CONTINUING LEGAL EDUCATION ("MCLE") CREDIT

Respondent may not receive MCLE credit for completion of State Bar Ethics School, or any other educational course(s) to be ordered as a condition of suspension. (Rules Proc. of State Bar, rule 3201.)
